THE APPEAL FOR 1877.

The APPEAL is so well known to the people of Arkansas, Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee, who have been patrons and readens for nearly forty years, that it is only necessary for us to say that it will continue the same policy which has placed it beyond controversy among the foremost journals of the south. The probable election of Tilden will invest the Democratic party with the fresh responsibilities which this great trust imposes, and the APPEAL will zealously cooperate with the National Democracy in the work of reform and reconciliation between the sections. The momentous events that will transpire during the year 1877 will impart unusual interest to a newspaper. Grave issues, full of thrilling interest, will be discussed and decided, and the APPEAL will faithfully chronicle the events as they transpire. The occurrences of the year will crowd upon each other, and the APPEAL will give the history of the times. Terms of Subscription, Daily & Weekly

BADICAL THEFT, LYING, DECEIT AND TRICKERY. We need not go beyond the financial state ments of the several southern States for proof of the capacity of the Radicals to cheat and steal. These exhibits, which about this time will meet the public eye in the newspapers, are evidence speaking as loud as any fact can speak of their ability when left to themselves, to plunder without stint, and a will, so long as there is anything to steal and any one remains willing to barter for the promises to pay which they filch from a verty-stricken and over-taxed people. forever. Hayes, it is said, and has been re-peated for weeks, is eager for a compromise with Lamar, Hill and Casey Young. He will give them cabinet appointments, will place at their disposal the Federal patronage of the south, and take them into his councils as leading advisers, if only they will "sell out" Tilden-"give him away," to use the language of the street. No scheme of bargain and sale ever devised equaled this in infamy. It is as base as its source, as wanting in honor and honesty as the party whence it emanated, a party as rotten as physically that leader of it from Indiana is to whom it owes long to it. Having failed in stealing, and in lying, these affluent tricksters, who bank upon Hayes succeeding Grant as a twig of the party tree which they can with least labor bend to their ways and use to their advantage, would willingly trade with the men they have most heartily denounced and held up for the hate of their section and their party as the sum total of all that to the fanatical northerner is objectionable and horrifying in the southern people. But in this they are doomed to failure. When in possession of our State governments they could make bonds and trade them ad libitum through dishonest bankers, and so long as the people of the north were not affected by loss of trade growing out of the persecution of our people, growing out of the persecution of our people, they succeeded with their gigantic lies in bolstering public opinion and drilling the members of their party to their purpose, but performed by the purpose of their party to their purpose, but performed by the purpose of their party to their purpose, but performed by the purpose of their party to their purpose, but performed by the performance of the persecution of our people, citizens of Ashtabula were selected: H.
